DON'T KNOW WHY I DID IT — That's what Deputy Probation Officer Leland Rodgers of San Mateo is telling sheriff's deputies after he was jailed on a charge of helping three girls escape from the juvenile hall west of Belmont. Rodgers unfolded a story of how he fooled the army by enlisting at the age of 15 and rising to the rank of sergeant.

Deputy Found Guilty In Aiding Girls Escape

Dep. Probation Officer Leland E. Rodgers, 19, was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail by Judge Aylett R. Cotton at 2:15 p.m. Monday after the youth pleaded guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

The charge grew out of the escape of three young girls from Hillcrest, the San Mateo County juvenile hall, with a master key supplied by Rodgers.

BY AL BODI

A dapper former army master sergeant who says he falsified his age to get into the army and also to get a job as a deputy probation officer Monday was held at the county jail on charges of helping three girls escape from Hillcrest, San Mateo County's juvenile hall.

When arrested, Leland E. Rodgers, 614 E. Poplar St., San Mateo, astonished officers by announcing that he was 19 years old. When he was hired three weeks ago as a part-time deputy probation officer, he said he was 23. His army discharge papers and his driver's license both showed the older age.

However, his mother, Mrs. Adele Rodgers, an attractive 35-year-old divorcee, confirmed her son's age.

Rodgers, a slender, dark youth with a small moustache, shrugged when asked why he supplied the three girls with a master key to Hillcrest.

Rodgers' arrest culminated a series of disturbances at Hillcrest for over a period of nearly a month.

Three girls, 14 to 17 years old, and all at Hillcrest because of sex offenses, escaped Friday evening. They were picked up by San Carlos police after midnight.

When questioned Saturday morning by Probation Officer John S. Cowgill, the girls admitted that they received a key from "Frenchy," Rodgers' nickname. Rodgers was confronted with the confessions, and with a letter which one of the girls started to write to him and later tore up.

He denied giving the girls the key. However, early Saturday evening after repeated questioning he finally admitted having the key made Friday morning and slipping it to the girls Friday afternoon.

Rodgers attempted to escape when Dep. Sheriff Jack O'Brien started to take him to the county jail.

O'Brien says that while he was backing the car from the parking lot at Hillcrest, Rodgers jumped from it and started to run. O'Brien jumped out of the car, pulled his gun and threatened to shoot unless Rodgers stopped.

Rodgers looked back, saw the gun and returned to the car. While O'Brien was putting the handcuffs on him, Rodgers told O'Brien:

"You might as well know all of it. I got a gun in my pocket."

O'Brien took a .25-caliber automatic pistol from Rodgers' pants pocket. It contained a clip with seven bullets in it, but there was no shell in the chamber.

While the girls were being returned to the juvenile home after their escape they told a deputy sheriff that they escaped because they wanted to talk to reporters about "mistreatment" at Hillcrest.

Cowgill and members of the probation committee allowed reporters to talk to the girls, whose charges of mistreatment were very vague.

One of the girls said she was slapped by a woman supervisor when the latter found the girl trying to escape. Another was thrown to the floor in a scuffle with a male supervisor who was removing her from the recreation room after she defied orders to remove from the side of a boy. The girls' main complaint was that they were segregated from the boys, and that rules at Hillcrest were too strictly enforced.

Rodgers himself, however, described Hillcrest as a "kindergarten."

Jury to Probe Juvenile Home Operation

A great jury committee announced Monday that it plans to investigate whether the probation department legally can operate San Mateo County's juvenile home.

J. J. McDonough, chairman of the jury's committee on government and public health, said that his group planned to determine whether the county charter is being violated by probation department operation of Hillcrest.

Article 7, Section 10, of the charter states that the superintendent of social service "shall have administrative supervision of the relief home, the juvenile home, and the relief of the indigent, of the blind, of the aged, and of the dependent children."

The County Board of Supervisors about 18 months ago transferred the juvenile home from the welfare department to the probation department.

McDonough said that he planned to determine whether such a move could be done legally, without a charter amendment requiring the vote of the citizens of the county.

The grand jury committee's investigation was started as a routine check of county departments, but became specific as a result of the notoriety which Hillcrest has been receiving recently.

"The grand jury is more interested in the expenditure of funds, determining whether the taxpayers' money is being spent economically," McDonough declared.

He said that the county apparently has been very liberal in allocating money for the construction and operation of the juvenile hall.

McDonough's committee also plans to look into the supervision of the children at Hillcrest. Three girls escaped Friday night with the aid of a young deputy probation officer, who has been arrested as a result.

The grand jury committee met Sunday in the San Mateo home of one of its members to discuss the juvenile home situation.

Legion Plans Washington Rite

Cmdr. Norman E. Edwards, 26th district chaplain, American Legion, has issued invitations to Peninsula organizations to attend flag raising ceremonies on Washington's Birthday, at 10:30 a.m. at the American Legion Hall in East Palo Alto.

Dedication speaker will be Brig. Gen. George A. Taylor, U.S., retired, who now resides in Palo Alto.

The American flag that will top the flagpole is one that covered the casket of one of the two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thomas at recent burial services by the American Legion Post 472. The pole has been donated by Paul Schlegel, 620 Willow Rd., while the ball for the top of the pole comes from Ben Sacciolla, 200 Stanford Ave., Menlo Park.

15-Year Search Ends in Success

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Herbert William Bertholdt's 15-year search in telephone books has ended.

He found what he wanted in a new Los Angeles directory after having checked every book since he came here in 1934.

He dialed the number, got yet replies to these questions: "Is this William Arthur Bertholdt?" "Did you ever live in Denver?" "Were you married to a girl named Bonnie Dowell?"

Finally Bertholdt, 37, cried: "Then you're sure as hell my father!" A happy meeting followed.

Six months after Herbert was born, the father and mother separated. And William left Denver. Herbert and his mother went to Raton, N. M. The father came here in 1928 but hasn't been in the phone book for years.

SF Man Drowns On Fishing Trip

A 32-year-old San Francisco machinist drowned Sunday afternoon after the small boat in which he was fishing overturned in the Pacific Ocean off Princeton.

The drowning victim was listed by the sheriff's office as Andrew J. Page. A companion, Charles E. Evans, 45, also of San Francisco, clung to the boat and was rescued.

According to the sheriff's office the two San Franciscans at 4:30 p.m. rented a boat from William Healy and started fishing outside of the reef about 250 feet from King's Rock. The men, after fishing for a while, started to return and tried to cross the reef instead of going around the buoy.

The boat apparently struck a rock and was capsized by the high waves. Evans climbed up on the overturned boat while Mr. Page clung to the side. Both men were wearing life preservers.

After clinging to the boat for about 45 minutes, Mr. Page lost his grip and was washed away. Healy spotted the boat, went out and towed it in. He later found Mr. Page's body floating in the water near the beach. Evans was treated at Community Hospital for exposure and shock.

Court Roundup: Gets 6-Month Term

A 55-year-old automobile mechanic with a criminal record dating back 35 years late Monday was sentenced to six months in the county jail on a bad check charge.

H. P. Sampson, Sharp Park, pleaded guilty to the check charge before Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton.

Sampson admitted passing a $25 bad check to Donald Arndt, San Bruno, on Dec. 29, 1947. He was arrested by San Francisco police for another bad check at about the same time, and sentenced to a year in the San Francisco jail. When his sentence was up he was turned over to San Mateo County officers.

Probation records show that Sampson served a year in San Quentin in 1916 on a grand larceny charge brought in Los Angeles. He subsequently was arrested on other serious offenses, and was given a five-year to life sentence for armed robbery. He was released from Folsom in 1937 after an eight-year stretch.

Judge Cotton yesterday dismissed mayhem charges against Alex Gregory, a Negro construction worker who seriously bit his wife during a Christmas Day party at their San Mateo home. The judge found that there was insufficient evidence in the record of the preliminary hearing to show that Mrs. Bertha Gregory's finger was permanently injured.

LeRoy G. Wilson, 31, of Fresno was arraigned on a burglary charge before Judge Cotton and his case continued until next Monday when he is to enter a plea. He is accused of stealing about $5.50 and a fountain pen set from the Gold and Gluskin Furniture Co., 711 Woodside Rd., on Jan. 27.

In the court of Superior Judge Edmund Scott, Joseph Cozzo, 54-year-old San Bruno grandfather, pleaded guilty to two sex offenses committed a few minutes after midnight on New Year's Day. Cozzo pleaded guilty to lewd and lascivious behavior toward an 11-year-old baby sitter and to the rape of a 12-year-old girl. He asked for probation, and is to be sentenced on Feb. 28.

Woodside Woman Injured in RC Accident

She was treated at Redwood City Clinic.

Disaster Relief Committee Plans Workshop Sessions

W. Paul Whaley, disaster chairman of Sequoia Chapter, American Red Cross, announced Tuesday a disaster workshop will be held at the chapter house on Feb. 23 and 24.

These sessions, which will take the form of round table discussions, are primarily for members of the Red Cross disaster committee, volunteer services and registration and information committee. They have been carefully planned by the disaster service of the Pacific Area office of the American Red Cross, based on their actual experiences, and have been of inestimable value to disaster committees in other chapters, according to Whaley.

The workshop will follow this schedule: Wednesday, Feb. 23, 9 a.m. to 12, volunteer services; 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., registration and information; 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., disaster committee and city officials. Thursday, Feb. 24, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., registration and information (second session).

Preparedness is one of the most economical forms of insurance, and nowhere is this fact more true than in the field of disaster relief, Whaley said. Pointing out the need for the maintenance of a constantly up-to-date disaster plan in every community, Whaley said that such a plan exists in the Sequoia Chapter, and that Red Cross personnel and volunteers would be immediately available to carry it out should fire, flood, explosion, earthquake or any other major disaster strike here.

Foresighted planning on the basis of known hazards to the individual community, backed by the resources of a nation-wide organization with nearly 70 years of experience in disaster relief operations to its credit have made the Red Cross the source to which people instinctively turn for help when disaster strikes, Whaley said.

Papers to Ban Racial Issue Ads

CLEVELAND (AP)—This city's large daily papers announced today they would ban certain help-wanted and situation wanted advertisements containing mention of race, religious creed, color, national origin and ancestry.

The Cleveland Newspaper Publishers Assn., whose members include the News, Plain Dealer and Press, adopted this policy:

"Member publishers agree that they will not accept male or female help or situation wanted advertising which contains references to race, religious creed, color, national origin or ancestry. This includes employment bureau advertising, but does not include help or situation wanted advertising for domestic help in private homes or advertising for private personal service."

In a concurrent statement, the Cleveland Committee on Employment Practices said it was asking suburban weekly and foreign language newspaper publishers to adopt a similar policy.

20 Witnesses Set In Murder Trial

YREKA (AP)—Dist. Atty. Fred Burton said today he expects to produce at least 20 prosecution witnesses in the murder trial of Winford Nelson Garvin, 23, Oklahoma millhand.

Garvin is charged with murdering a Catholic priest, Father Francis J. Parolin, in a Weed, Calif., hotel last October.

Burton produced his first three witnesses yesterday: The hotel handyman who found Father Parolin's body, the Weed police chief, and Dr. Howard Kent, Weed physician who performed the autopsy.

Defense Counsel J. Everett Barr attempted to have Dr. Kent's testimony stricken. Barr said the prosecution had failed to connect the doctor's testimony with the case.

Superior Judge James M. Allen reserved decision on Barr's motion, saying he would see if evidence yet to be presented linked the doctor's testimony to the case.

WE ALL EAT: Dairy Producers Don't Want a Cut

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

The California Dairyman, self-styled "California's foremost dairy publication devoted to the interests of the dairy and livestock industries," recently quoted this column at some length, which is anyone's privilege and my pleasure.

That particular column reported my interview in Sacramento with milk chief W. D. Woodburn, when he predicted a penny per quart drop in milk at retail throughout California, the cut to come out of the price paid the men with the cows, starting in March or April.

Now that you've seen the California Dairyman dedication, you can guess how they received Woodburn's forecast. The article is revealingly entitled: "Bureau of Milk Control Does It Again; Pops Up With Another Lulu."

No one likes to take a cut, and the prospect burns some of the producers, but I wouldn't say all. The article points out that at a January auction "in the heart of LA Milk Shed, the average price of cows was over $425, and the top grade cow brought $630." This while the price of cows we meet as hamburgers has been going down.

Next to consumers, I like producers best. Everyone is glad they've been making good money. And we know it takes plenty to bid cows up above $400 and boom times to make a cow worth $630.

Your Grocer: If the state is going to tax cigarets five cents per pack of 20, the Grocers Association believes someone besides your grocer should affix the stamp to each pack. Grocers oppose the bill (A.B. 719) in its present form.

Many grocers have been arrested for freezing the wrong products in rented refrigerators. Here's the way it has worked: Mr. Smooch manufactures, let's say, frozen truffles. Your grocer says if he's going to handle such an item, he'll need more refrigeration space. Mr. Smooch says nothing could be easier, he'll gladly rent your grocer a nice freezer for a small amount, (and won't be too hard-boiled, maybe, in collecting the rent.)

Everything is love and kisses until Mr. Smooch makes a visit and finds the freezer he bought and rented so cheaply is chuck-full of items highly competitive to frozen truffles. Mr. Smooch kicks, and the grocer says, "It's my store. I'm paying the rent on the freezer, ain't I?"

But Mr. Smooch has the law on his side, and even grocers who don't say "ain't I?" have been arrested.

So the California Grocers Assn. has sponsored a bill to repeal the present law which makes it a crime to put other products in a refrigerator rented from a food manufacturer or distributor.

The grocer's angle is easy to get. If he rents some equipment he ought to be able to put what he wants in it. Still, I feel for Mr. Smooch, just a little.

You Change. Your personality before and after eating a meal differs, research has found. The sense of taste and smell changes throughout the day. Apparatus has been designed to measure these changes, which scientists suspect are caused by hormones.

Franz R. Goetzl, M.D., Ph.D. director of the Permanente Foundation for Medical Research in Oakland will give the latest on this in "Studies on Human Appetite" before the Institute of Food Technologists Wednesday night. I'll cover and report here soon.

Aren't you glad to know it's not just a bad disposition that makes some people cross and irritable before eating? Hormones.

Multi-Purpose Food. Major Marvin Marston, the man who armed and organized the Aleuts and Eskimos into the Tundra Army of World War II is a big booster for Multi-Purpose Food.

Eskimos feel as safe as the gold in Kentucky when they have a winter's supply of Multi-Puprose Food, says Major Marsten. It means security, and independence from bargaining traders.

Multi-Purpose Food was formulated by Dr. Henry Borsook, noted biochemist of Cal Tech, at the request of Meals For Millions Foundation, a non-profit relief organization. Two ounces of the concentrate cooks up with water to eight ounces with nutrient values equivalent to four ounces of lean beef, an eight-ounce glass of milk, a serving of green peas and potato. Cost? Just 3 cents!

The foundation thinks President Truman should buy Multi-Purpose Food to simplify his goal of world-wide improvement. They forget the government must support many prices, which means buying huge lots which must be kept off the U. S. Market, where "We All Eat."

Guard Enlisting Here May Close

Indications are that openings in the National Guard may soon close but until such time the Redwood City Battery is accepting enlistments of young men between the ages of 17 and 34 who are physically and mentally alert and who meet the qualifications for enlistment.

Young men, who are interested in joining the local unit, may do so without interruption of their job and education. They are paid for attendance at drills and have the opportunity to learn new skills.

The local battery of the 149th Anti-Aircraft Automatic Weapons Battalion (self-propelled) meets every Monday, 8 p.m. at Foresters Hall. Men who are interested are urged to contact the commanding officer of the battery or the local regular army recruiting sergeant at the courthouse.

Musta Been Cold

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—"One Alaska winter the mercury fell so fast it jerked thermometers off walls and railroad engines used frozen steam as cordwood."

That's the biggest sourdough whopper of the year. It brought Berman Rinear, Alaska railroad baggage clerk and part-time photographer, $500 in cash and a plane trip to spend New Year's Day in Hollywood.

The judges, members of Fairbanks' Igloo Pioneers of Alaska, picked the story from 3276 entries. It was entitled "Moose Creek Charlie and the Quick Freeze."

Rinear said his astonishment at winning was even greater "because every word of the yarn was true."

Devastating U.S. Floods Feared When Heavy Snows Melt in Inland Valley Regions

The Agriculture Department warned today that winter's heavy snows in the West may create devastating floods when they melt.

The possibility of heavy overflows was seen in the Columbia, Missouri, and possibly the Rio Grande Valleys.

The water content of the snow cover on major watersheds was given as about 200 per cent above normal in the Columbia basin, ranging down to normal in Southern California.

Officials said some states and local government units already have started making plans for flood emergencies.

The department itself is drawing up plans to move millions of bushels of grain out of the path of possible floods.

'Suitcase' Burglars Hit North County

The suitcase burglars hit Burlingame again Sunday night, this time in the Ray Park area.

Once more they left their telltale marks of identification . . . the completely-ransacked house, the throwing of belongings onto the floor and walking on them, the theft of suitcases to carry off their loot.

Total loss this time amounted to about $500, but the figure may be higher when owners complete their inventories.

Yesterday's operations, unlike those of last week, were in the evening. They got into the first house—that of Fred W. Lykker of 2014 Ray Rd.—sometime between 6 and 9 p.m. and into the second house—that of William J. Bourne, 2224 Davis Dr.—within an hour later.

The two houses are little more than a block apart.

Lykker reported the burglary shortly after he and his house guests, relatives from the East, returned from supper. He said the relatives had four tightly-packed suitcases, which the burglars made off with.

Besides the full suitcases, the burglars took a camera ($75), a dianmond pin ($60), a watch ($50), and a sewing machine ($50).

Taking the sewing machine was another evidence of the suitcase burglars, who seem to operate on a quota basis. Things they will take in one house, they will leave alone in another.

Lykker told police they also broke into a baby's bank and took $5.

Entrance to Bourne's house also was made through a rear bedroom. In Bourne's case, however, an unlocked door made the burglars' entrance easy.

Bourne told police the master bedroom was completely ransacked. He said a cedar chest in the living room also had been gone through thoroughly but there was apparently nothing missing from it.

Motorcycle Bucks Driver, Rams Auto

A Menlo Park mechanic was injured Sunday evening when his motorcycle bucked him off and then ran on for 300 feet and crashed into a car.

Leroy Hawkins, 28, of 595 Sixth Ave., Menlo Park, was one of the eight persons who were injured in automobile accidents during the weekend in the unincorporated parts of San Mateo County. None of the injuries was serious.

Hawkins was riding his motorcycle south on Middlefield Rd. and near MacArthur Ave. the motorcycle hit a chuck hole. Hawkins bounced from the cycle, which continued to speed down the center of Middlefield Rd. The motorcycle finally swerved to the side, hit a building and bounced into a car driven by Eugene J. Bulf, 29, of 1043 Greenwood Dr., Menlo Park. Hawkins, whose license had been suspended, was cited by the California Highway Patrol for driving without a license.

Glen H. Kenison, 24, of Felton, suffered a severe scalp cut, and Roma Kenison, 19, minor bruises when the pickup truck in which the were riding overturned on Bayshore Freeway near Broadway, Burlingame, Saturday evening.

The CHP stated that a car driven by James E. Smith, 24, a soldier stationed at Ft. Ord, attempted to pass the pickup truck driven by Kenison, swerved into the highway dividing strip and then back onto the pavement, striking the rear of the truck.

Earlier Saturday Bradford M. Melvin, 55, state inheritance tax appraiser, San Mateo, suffered minor head injuries when his car crashed into the rear of a sedan driven by Ralph P. Cooper, 46, of San Francisco.

The accident occurred on Bayshore Hwy. at the Brisbane intersection. According to the CHP Cooper's car had stopped for a red light at the time of the accident.

Robert L. Johnson, 32, a member of the San Jose Police Dept., and two passengers in his car were injured when a tire blew out and the car overturned on Bayshore Hwy. near Harbor Rd., Belmont, yesterday morning. The others injured were Herbert Buckingham, 23, and Frank Ankenbauer, 34, both of San Jose. Johnson's sedan was pulling a small trailer when the right rear tire of the car blew out.

Earl Johnson, 30, of 1120 17th Ave., was injured Saturday evening in a collision at Spring and Warrington Aves., Friendly Acres. The CHP stated that Johnson's car and a sedan driven by Darold E. Kuhl, 24, of 543 Bay Rd., collided.

Burglar Grabs $148 in Liquor

A burglar with a taste for good liquor early Sunday broke into the American Legion Hall, 2398 University Ave., East Palo Alto, for the second time in a week.

The sheriff's office reported that 33 bottles of whisky—only the better brands—were taken by the thief. The whisky was valued at $148. The burglar also took $7 in cash from the cash register.

Lloyd Kemp, 2358 Menalto Ave., the manager of the hall, reported to the sheriff's office that the burglary apparently occurred between 3 and 11 a.m. Sunday.

The burglar entered the hall through an open window and then used an iron bar to force his way into the basement. The hall was burglarized last weekend, probably by the same man. Whisky and coins from the juke box were stolen in the first burglary.

Call Probe Of Powers At 'Home'

County Executive Frederick Peterson Tuesday asked the board of supervisors to restore administrative supervision of the juvenile home to the superintendent of social service.

The board referred the letter to the district attorney, asking whether it acted within its powers 18 months ago in placing the juvenile home — Hillcrest — in charge of the probation department.

Supervisor Edward R. McDonald of Burlingame refused to vote on the motion.

"I wouldn't refer it to the district attorney," he declared. "I'd file it."

McDonald said that the district attorney had cleared the transfer when it was made.

"I don't like this criticism," he declared hotly. "I tried nine times to get a site for the juvenile home in Redwood City. We were just buffed around. Finally we had to build it out near the relief home."

Peterson's letter pointed out that the county charter states that the superintendent of social service shall have administrative supervision of the juvenile home.

"At one of your meetings last year, I remember you took it upon yourselves to override the above provisions of the charter by passing an ordinance which transferred the administrative supervision of the juvenile home from the superintendent of social service to the probation department," Peterson wrote.

"It is my understanding that no public official has the right or authority to pass laws which are in conflict with the charter; that any change in the charter must be made by a vote of the people—not by action of the board of supervisors."

He said that he has taken notice of "a great deal of unfavorable publicity about conditions" at the juvenile home. Prior to the transfer from the welfare department, the juvenile home "was conducted by our superintendent of social service, Mr. Adrian Ward, in a very efficient and capable manner," Peterson stated.

Toastmasters Hear Talks by Bogie, Harman

Donald Bogie and Myron Harman were speakers Monday at a meeting of the Redwood City Toastmasters Club. Bogie gave an address on Abraham Lincoln while Harman spoke on the operations of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce.

Table discussions were led by Dr. C. Burke Miles. Clarence Rinne was accepted as a new member.

Pres. John Babcock announced that a few vacancies were left in the club for this semester. The Toastmasters are a unit of the Sequoia High School Evening School.

Burglar in Raid At Broadmoor

A burglar Monday broke into the home of Ralph Arnott, 719 Larchmont Ave., Broadmoor Village, and stole $250 in cash and jewelry.

Arnott reported to the sheriff's office that the burglary occurred between 7 and 9 p.m. while he and his family were away. The thief used a screw driver to rip off the latch on a window of a bedroom.

The articles taken were in a metal strongbox. The costume jewelry was valued at a total of $50 and included earrings, pins and rings. The thief also took $200 in cash, various papers and a bank book.

File Manslaughter Charge in Deaths

Robert E. Bond, 22, of Richmond, Tuesday was charged with manslaughter as the result of the deaths of two of his passengers in an accident on Bayshore Hwy. near Brisbane on Feb. 7 when Bond's speeding automobile wrapped around a light pole at the side of the road.

The complaint was filed before Judge Edward Ryan, acting justice of the peace in the First Township.

Lloyd E. McCoy, 22, and Charles J. Moore, 23, also of Richmond, were killed in the crash. Mr. Moore was a storekeeper at Stanford University. Bond was critically hurt. He suffered a broken leg and a head injury.

A witness said Bond's southbound car was traveling between 80 and 95 miles an hour during a heavy rain. California Highway Patrol officers reported the impact buckled the car entirely around the pole, so that the front and rear ends almost met.

Harshbargers' Divorce Aired

Mrs. Evelyn L. Harshbarger, of 3239 Alameda de las Pulgas, Menlo Park, filed suit for divorce in superior court here, charging her husband, Robert Harshbarger, with cruelty.

The couple was married in Reno on Sept. 5, 1937, and separated this Feb. 1. Mrs. Harshbarger listed as community property a Menlo Park home, two cars, Robert's Juvenile Shop and Robert's Beauty Salon, both at 469 University Ave., Palo Alto.

She asked for custody of their only child, Leilani, 7, all of the community property, and $500 a month support for herself and child.
